Once Alien Righteousness? is in your Logos® library:

1. You can read Alien Righteousness on your computer screen.

2. You can highlight and annotate passages in Alien Righteousness as you can any other book in your Logos library.

3. You can click on the Logos visual filters icon to show or hide page numbers in Alien Righteousness?

4. You can type ctrl-shift-c to show the table of contents in a left-side margin, and click on any table-of-contents heading to go to that place in the book.

5. You can hold your mouse cursor over any blue word in the book to see its link, or click on the blue word to go to the information it is linked to.

6. As in any Logos book, you can hold your mouse cursor over any Scripture reference to see the Scripture text in your favorite Bible.

7. With Alien Righteousness? open in your Logos window, you can click on the Logos Search icon (in the upper left corner of the Logos window), and in upper left of the search window, click the words Entire Library (following Search All Text in) — or click on the name of a collection you've already selected — and select AR Alien Righteousness? under OPEN RESOURCES. Now you can type a word or Scripture reference in the Find box and search for it in the book. Logos will list all the occurrences of your word or Scripture reference in Alien Righteousness?

10. You can instantly ready footnotes by simply holding your mouse cursor over a footnote reference number in the text.

11. You can select the Tools menu, then Collections under the Library heading and create a new collection of "theological works" in your library. This will allow you to search only theology books instead of your whole library, when you choose to so limit your search. Once you have a named "theological works" collection, click on the book icon in the upper left corner of your Logos window (next to the home icon) and type Alien in the Find box. You will see the Alien Righteousness? title and cover icon appear in a short list of books. Click and drag Alien Righteousness? from this list and drop it in the Drop resources or collections to add here under your collection heading. Now Logos will search Alien Righteousness? whenever you search your "theological works" collection.

ENJOY!
